Beautiful Brandon

HE village of Brandon, Rutland County, Vermont, has a population of 2500; is situated on the Rutland Railroad, a part of the New York Central system, is 250 miles from New York City—about seven hours' ride—and about 183 miles from Boston—a five hours' ride. It is 17 miles north of the city of Rutland and 52 miles south of the city of Burlington, on the direct route from New York City to Montreal. It is also on the best and most direct line of road for automobiles between the two last named cities, Rutland and Burlington. It is 16 miles to the east from Lake Champlain, which with Fort Ticonderoga—now being restored to its revolutionary grandness —forms a never failing point of interest, in addition to the delights of a sail or steamer ride on Lake Champlain or Lake George.

From Brandon may be had beautiful views of the distant Adirondacks on the west and our own Green Mountains on the east, which with their health giving breezes, picturesque drives and the many streams and lakes, are a perpetual pleasure, both in summer and in winter. With its beautiful environment, Brandon has been called the drawing-room village of New England. It has broad shaded streets, and lawns, and charming residences, asphalt walks, electric lights, a fine gravity water supply of pure mountain spring water, with a pressure up to 180 pounds if required, (ample for manufacturing, both in pressure and supply) unusually good stores, good schools, a free public library, five churches, marble mill and quarries and several factories.

Here is located the famous summer and winter hotel, the Brandon Inn, which is classed among its kind as one of the finest in the state of Vermont. It is owned and managed by local stockholders and is a favorite resort for banquets, conventions, select and private dancing parties and automobile tourists.

Among the many attractions about Brandon may be mentioned Lake Hortonia, situated eight miles to the west; also Lake Dunmore, seven miles to the northeast, of which too much cannot be said. Lake Dunmore is five and one-half miles long and one mile broad and is surrounded by well wooded mountains and hills. From its eastern shore Mount Moosalamoo, one of the highest peaks of the main range of the Green Mountains, rises abrupty, while a little to the south of it and several feet higher than Lake Dunmore, Silver Lake looks down on its larger sister. The scenery along the road from Brandon village to Silver Lake is said to be the most picturesque in the state of Vermont—yes, in New England.

One third of a mile to the south, and nearer Brandon, is Fern Lake. This, too, is a lovely sheet of water. Many smaller lakes and ponds are easily accessible from our village. In these lakes are found lake trout, pickerel, bass, perch, etc., while the speckled trout are also found in the mountain streams. There is good hunting in season. Deer, fox, squirrel, partridge and water-fowl are found in abundance and occasionally a black bear or a wild cat is killed by a sportsman.

There are many other points of interest not herein mentioned which go to make this village a most attractive place to spend a summer or winter; a place, in fact, for a vacation at any season of the year. Come and see Brandon; you will be welcomed, and we think you will be charmed with its beauty and loveliness and will agree with us that it is the most beautiful village in New England.

The Brandon Inn

Recently purchased by a syndicate of townspeople, refitted, remodeled, refurnished throughout. Every accommodation for Automobile Parties and the Traveling Public.

Rooms single and en suite, with private baths, at reasonable prices.

Shortest and most picturesque Automobile Route from Rutland to Burlington, passing historic Lake Dunmore, one of the beauty spots of Vermont, and through the Islands of Lake Champlain to Montreal.

The Burnham Store's Ready-to-Wear Department

LADIES, MISSES and CHILDREN

OCCUPIES nearly an entire floor and caters to the needs of this territory on broader and better lines than any competitor.

Our policy is "everything sold must be satisfactory." Prices are lower than those usually made by other stores. For the Spring of 1911 we have planned the best values in Women's Suits at $15.00, $20.00 and $25.00 that will be shown in this section.

We challenge Mail Order Houses to meet us.

The largest line of our experience in Silk, Wool and Worsted Automobile or Travelling Coats will be shown as soon as Spring opens.

All goods are sold for cash or approved note, no accounts will be made.

All bills of goods amounting to $3.00 or more are delivered free within 50 miles of Brandon.

All trade on the line of the R. R. and also outlying between Burlington and Rutland is solicited, and any reasonable traveling expense incurred by a customer will be paid by us.

WE TRUST you will find this little souvenir book interesting. It contains but a few descriptions of the many things which go to make Brandon attractive to visitors and citizens alike. Clear, invigorating air, pure mountain spring water, a general sense of civic pride, a genuine hospitality, combined with the ease and convenience by which you may obtain an abundance of Good Things to Eat—these are some of the attractions which cannot be illustrated or described; you must experience them to understand them.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW, LAKE HORTONIA

The Cascade House

at the foot of Moosalamoo, one of the grandest mountains in the Green Mountain Range, is situated on the east side of Lake Dunmore, a beautiful sheet of water five miles in length, surrounded by wooded hills and mountains. It is nine miles from Brandon and a delightful carriage drive through changing panorama of beautiful Vermont scenery. The house sets well back from the lake, the lovely grounds sloping to the water's edge. The house is supplied with modern conveniences and good sleeping rooms. There is also a cottage in connection with sleeping rooms and living room, also a spacious piazza which commands a fine view of the lake. The cascade house offers all the advantages of both mountain and lake resorts at a modest price. The farm of 170 acres, in connection, furnishes plenty of fresh vegetables, milk, butter, cream and eggs for the table.

Among the many places of interest near by are the Green Mountain Boys' cave, (fifteen minutes' walk) the beautiful Llana Cascade (ten minutes' walk) and the trout stream so renowned. The possibilities with rod and gun cannot be excelled in New England. Places of greater interest cannot be found than the surroundings of this beautiful lake. Sojourners need have no fear that time will be burdensome; it is possible to find new places of interest each day in the walks and drives about here. Have a fine beach, bathing house, row boats, motor launch, baseball and croquet grounds, livery stable, etc. Long distance telephone and daily mail. For particulars address ROY W. BRESEE, Brandon, Vt.

The Peoples Telephone Company

A telephone is a great convenience at your residence and almost a necessity at your place of business. The protection given by a telephone far outweighs its cost. It will call the firemen in case of fire, summon the doctor in case of sickness, any emergency which requires aid suddenly, demonstrates the value of a telephone.

Today in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, alone, there are over 340,000 telephones in daily use. Why not install a telephone at your residence and place of business?
